

Delta Invasive Species Symposium

-Tools and actions to meet current needs and prepare for future challenges

AUGUST 29, 2017

9:00 - 4:30

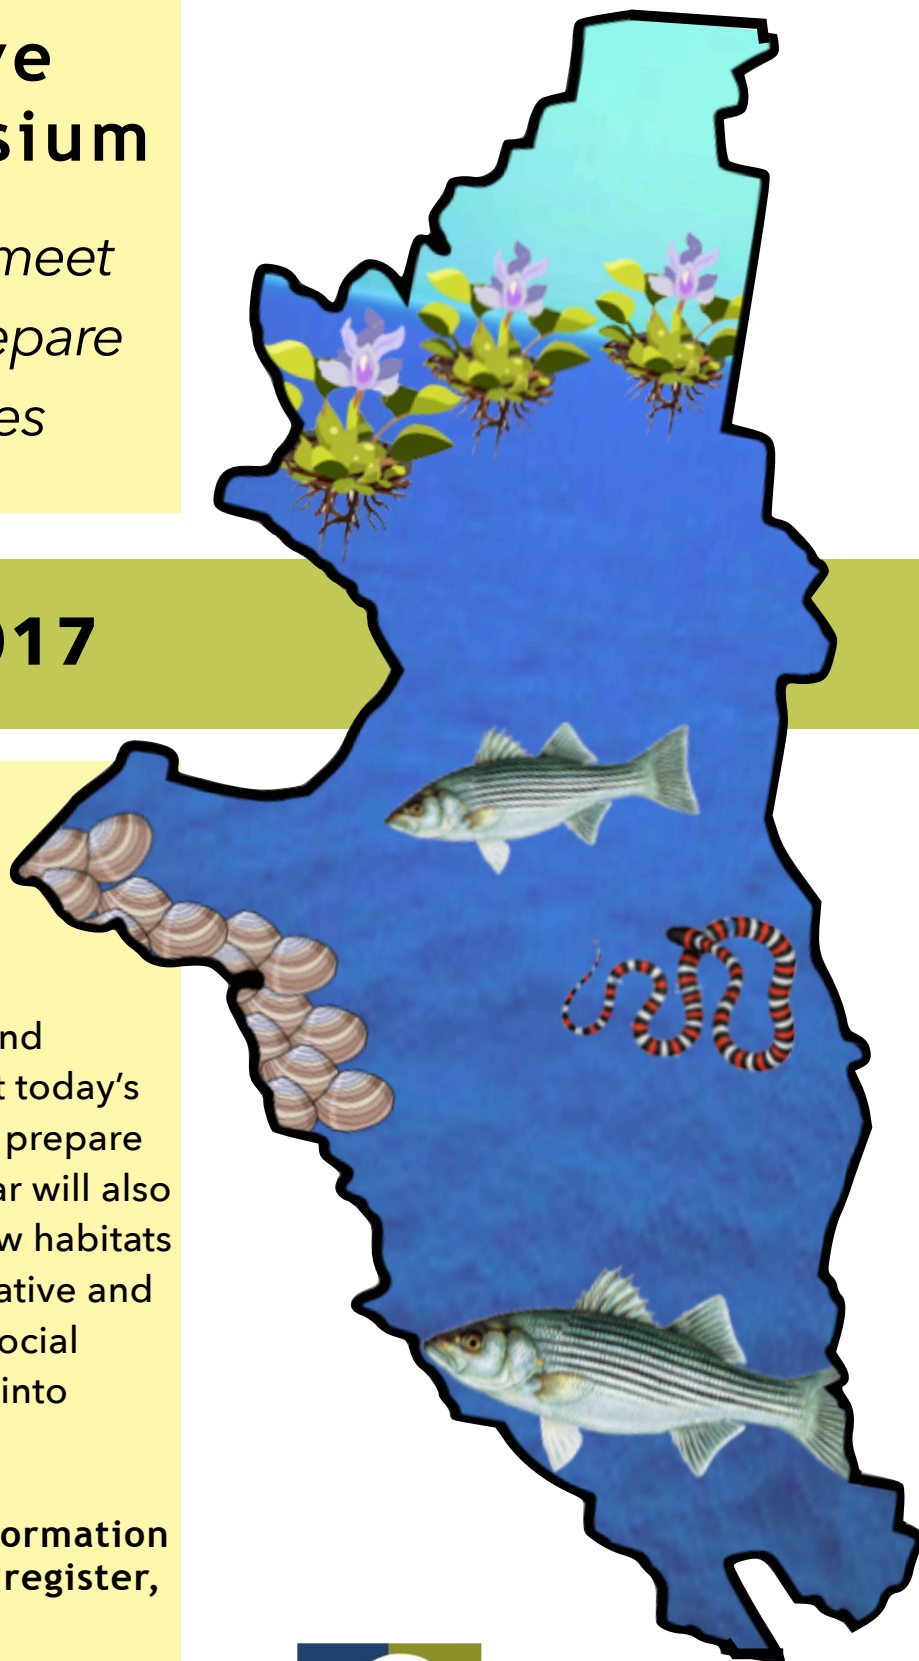

UC Davis Conference Center

Presentations will explore tools and actions being developed to meet today's management needs as well as to prepare for future challenges. This seminar will also explore our understanding of how habitats can be managed to encourage native and deter invasive species and how social science can be better integrated into invasive species management.

Check out our webpage for information on how to submit an abstract, register, and more!
